Director’s Note: Appreciating our Locations

As an education-focused organization, we hope you learn something new, fun, or useful when you sign up for a MALT class. But our social mission lies beyond your individual educational experience. MALT’s underlying mission is to bring diverse community together through shared experiences and common interests. And beyond connecting individuals to each other, our hope is that you travel outside of your well-worn paths and visit someplace new — expanding your sense of your community to include new places as well as new faces. The large majority of MALT classes are held outside of our small Mt. Airy office, at almost 50 (!) locations throughout NW Philadelphia — broadening and deepening your connection to this vibrant community we all call home. On page 64 you’ll find an appreciation of our course host sites. Thank you to all of our locations for being a part of the MALT community, and our NW Philly community at large!

Stephanie Bruneau
Executive Director

A Business’ Crash-Course in Social Media
CC06. The ubiquity of social media websites such as Facebook and Twitter allows consumers to tell their friends about their experiences and make it much easier for word-of-mouth to spread quickly. If you’re running a start-up or mid-sized company, discover how to take advantage of this connectivity to your customers. Learn basic social media terminology, how to set up your business account in Facebook and Twitter, how to use those accounts as a business, and when it makes sense to hire a firm to manage your social media. Curriculum has been updated to include recent and ongoing content protection regulations. You must have at least basic knowledge of computers, the Internet, and accounts in Facebook and Twitter before class.

DeAnn Cox is the owner of Cox Management and Consulting Firm, Inc. She has successfully directed the company’s strategic planning, social media management, business development, resources, quality assurance and customer satisfaction.

We’ll sample wines from countries which may include Hungary, Bulgaria, Romania, Slovenia, Croatia, Czech Republic, Slovakia and Bosnia.

Whether it’s a notable occasion, a special person, or a run-of-the-mill birthday, there are easy ways to create personalized and memorable gifts. Looking at different categories (sports, arts, hobbies, family, etc), and using photos, music, books, writing, food, and more, you’ll be able to create gifts that really stand out. Plenty of examples and ideas, no special talents required.

Learn how to “deal professionally” with police if they stop you: when, if ever, to consent to a search, how to answer police questions, how to “arrest proof” yourself, and maintain your most important freedoms. This isn’t intended to help people commit and get away with crimes; it’s to help all of us achieve better relations with police in the critical moments when it matters most.

Liberate the Power of Your Voice

MB35. We use our voices every day, all day, and take them entirely for granted. We feel that if we were only more assertive, actualized or enlightened we would find a way to express our true selves. Voicework, when done with the intention of encouraging expansion of the person, opens up the areas we have been silencing for so many years and allows us to hear the fullness of ourselves. We will practice voicework techniques that encourage full expression as well as explore the voice and our thoughts and feelings about it in a safe and stress-free environment. The purpose of this work is not to create a ‘beautiful voice’ but to create freedom in your voice so that you can discover and enjoy its beauty and power.

Deborah Crane has been helping clients “find their voice” for more than 15 years. She is experienced in Voice Movement Therapy, an expressive arts therapy which focuses on the voice as an instrument of self-expression. Her approach to voice is not based in either singing or speaking, but in helping her clients expand their voice for the purpose of living a more expressive and fulfilling life.

Isabella d’Este oversaw a court abounding in music and musicians. We will talk about her life, her influence on the development of musical instruments of the day, and play music that was composed at her court.

Joan Kimball and Bob Wiemken are the artistic directors of Piffaro. Piffaro brings the sounds of the Renaissance to life through research and performance, using an ever-expanding instrumentarium of shawms, dulcians, sackbuts, recorders, krumhorns, bagpipes, lutes, guitars, harps, and a variety of percussion - all careful reconstructions of instruments from the period and the only professional collection of its kind in North America.

Thank you to our Course Locations!

In taking a MALT class you might visit: a church you’ve driven past 100+ times but never been inside of; a Quaker meeting house or synagogue for the first time; an independently-owned local business; an artist’s home studio; or any other local establishment — broadening and deepening your connection to this vibrant community we all call home. The large majority of MALT classes are held outside of our small Mt. Airy office, at almost 50 (!) locations throughout NW Philadelphia.

We are deeply appreciative of our course locations, whose gracious open doors allow us to carry out our mission. And like any good relationship, the feeling is mutual. We are so lucky — the sites that we work with report that they truly enjoy hosting MALT classes. For some locations, our programming enlivens their buildings during off-hours. For others, our courses bring new audiences to view and appreciate what they have to offer. Small businesses appreciate the added visibility that being a part of our catalog provides, and houses of worship or group living facilities enjoy hosting dynamic programming that can further engage their members.

From Our House Culture Center in Germantown to the city-owned Venice Island Recreation Center in Manayunk, and from Chestnut Hill Friends Meeting to Bella Mosaic in Mt. Airy, our class venues are as diverse as we are.
